Atencio explains that this is a concerted effort (yes), but it is a work in progress to achieve gender parity. A question was raised about the one stop shop specifically about those who are released in other parts of the state (outside of the Treasure Valley). 10:30 am (15 min)	Statewide Contract for Drug Testing – Scott Ronan, Program Manager, Administrative Office of the Courts	Scott Ronan gives presentation on drug testing: The administrative office of the Supreme Court is testing the feasibility of a statewide drug-testing program. Drug testing could save lives as well as hold offenders accountable, especially as it relates the growing opioid addiction crisis. Costs of drug testing can be significant. Costs vary by jurisdiction. A statewide drug-testing contract for drug testing supplies already exists. Some jurisdiction may be better and negotiating contacts. A statewide program may reduce costs via buying in volume and other reasons. Henry Atencio explained that UA's are very time consuming for employees and asked: could we get contract labs to perform the UA's rather than state employees such as probation officers? Scott Ronan replied that the Courts have the same goal. The Commission put its support toward a move for further research to support a statewide drug testing contract. Next report on research conducted by Scott Ronan to be given at a later date.
